Individual reflection, Daniel Danielsson, week 1

What do I want to learn or understand better?

During this week the main focus of learning was scrum and the agile way of working. The thing that I want to understand better is how to "split the cake vertically", when creating tasks and user stories.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

During our group meeting Me and another group member advocated towards building a web application since we both have some previous experience in this field. This could be beneficial for the team members that want to learn something new.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I participated in all scrum exercises and took part in the meetings we had within the team. We agreed upon a project idea (scope) during one of these meetings and started to plan our user stories.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

I created a mockup using html and css. Since we decided to create a web application some of the code could be used later within the project.
